

Ronson Talks Continue Into Morning Hours

NEGOTIATORS FOR THE Ronson Corp., and the International Association of Machinists were prepared to remain in session all night to complete a package offer which could be presented to the union membership this morning.

Charles E. Beyer, IAM grand lodge representative, told The Daily Record shortly after 11 p.m. that union representatives would stay in session all night, if necessary, so they could "make a conclusive report on which the membership could vote in the morning."

Another meeting of the estimated 750 striking Ronson workers is scheduled for 8 a.m. today at the American Legion Home, East Stroudsburg. The workers—members of IAM Lodge 1724—have been on strike since June 1.

Beyer said any new package offer would first be presented to the union's policy committee before it is reported to the membership.

The workers previously rejected an earlier package offer.

Drill Instructor Testifies McKeon Drank Vodka Prior To March Into Ribbon Creek

By BEM PRICE

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C., July 19 (UPI)—A brother drill instructor testified today S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon drank vodka and napped before leading six Marine recruits to death in a swamp.

Cpl. Richard J. King of Eugene, Ore., also told the court-martial board that the recruits of the ill-fated platoon No. 71 had been given 10 hours swimming instruction.

McKeon, 31, of Worcester, Mass., is the former drill instructor who led the 74-man platoon in column of two's into the marshes around Ribbon Creek about 8:30 p.m. April 8. Six drowned.

McKeon is charged with involuntary manslaughter, oppression of recruits and two counts of drinking on duty.

Smile

For the first time today the usually impassive McKeon smiled when his attorney became mixed up over Marine terminology. He also spoke his first word in court.

He was asked by the court if he agreed to a concession by his civilian lawyer that six Marines were led to their death by him.

McKeon grabbed a microphone and almost shouted "yes." He omitted the "sir," customary when addressing a senior officer.

Under cross-examination King was asked, "Isn't it true that extra instruction is encouraged on the part of drill instructors . . . to assist the recruit in becoming good basic Marines?"

The slender and blonde corporal with a "flattop" haircut, replied smartly, "Yes, sir!"

Defense attorney Emile Zola Berman of New York City contends that the night march into the savanna grass and water of the tidal marshland was in reality "extra instruction."

King was the fourth of five witnesses to take the stand in the steaming school auditorium converted to a courtroom.

Miss Sondergaard, who is appearing here in the play, "Anastasia," was not immediately available for comment.

Yesterday, she declined an invitation to speak before the Legion convention, saying she had insufficient time to prepare a talk while acting in the play.

She was questioned Tuesday at a hearing called by Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) which Walter said was to investigate the effect of alleged "blacklisting" of theatrical performers.

Committee Takes Stand

PHILADELPHIA, July 19 (UPI)—The library committee of the Plymouth Monthly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends asserted today that a congressional hearing this week failed to develop a single new fact regarding the society's hiring of a librarian who allegedly had past Communist associations.

And the library committee indicated it would keep the librarian on her job.

End

The hearing ended here yesterday. A subcommittee of the House Committee on Un-American Activities was investigating a $5,000 award which the Fund for the Republic gave the Plymouth Meeting. The award praised the meeting's "defense of democratic principles" in refusing to dismiss the librarian, Mrs. Mary Knowles, who had been identified by an FBI agent as having past Communist connections.

Importance Placed On State Phase

HARRISBURG, July 19 (UPI)—Pennsylvania's Civil Defense director today placed top importance on a special state phase of tomorrow afternoon's nationwide fire raid test alert.

Held in conjunction with the Conelrad emergency radio broadcasting part of the alert, "Operation Tune In" is aimed at determining how many Pennsylvanians are within range of the emergency radio system.

Tobyhanna Depot Probe Reopens Monday

SCRANTON, Pa., July 19 (UPI)—The Scranton Tribune said tonight it had learned that a federal grand jury will look into reports of suspicion of bribery at Olmsted Air Force base near Middletown, Dauphin County.

Under the by-line of Gordon Williams, staff reporter, the Tribune said it understood that the investigation will be concerned with activities of inspectors at the base.

Approximately 11,000 persons, most of them civilians, are employed at the depot, which spreads over a couple hundred acres along the Susquehanna River. The base is a materiel center handling a wide variety of aircraft parts.

The Tribune said it learned that the grand jury's inquiry will center on reports of bribery in connection with approval of alleged sub-standard work.

The newspaper stated that, according to its information, the inquiry will be conducted by the same grand jury which has been investigating alleged contract and labor racketeering at the 33 million dollar Tobyhanna Signal Corps Depot.

When asked about the reports concerning Olmsted, U.S. Atty. J. Julius Levy said only, "no comment."

He did, however, confirm that the Tobyhanna investigation will be resumed next Monday. The grand jury had been in recess for two weeks.

Confirmation

Levy said a witness, who has been hospitalized for some while, is now ready, willing and "happy" to testify concerning the Tobyhanna allegations. He did not identify the person.

Levy said the grand jury will remain in session until Aug. 27 when he goes to Dallas, Tex., for the American Bar Assn. convention. He is a member of several ABA committees.

Senate Rejects Hells Canyon Dam Bill

WASHINGTON, July 19 (UPI)—The Senate today rejected the Hells Canyon Dam bill, giving the Eisenhower administration a clear-cut victory over the Democratic leadership and public power advocates.

The Democrats lost, by a 51-41 roll call vote, a long and bitter fight for authorization of a federal dam in the Snake River bordering Idaho and Oregon, where the administration has licensed construction of three smaller private power dams.

Eight Democrats, all from the South, sided with 43 Republicans to defeat the legislation. Only two Republicans—Wiley of Wisconsin and Langer of North Dakota—voted for the bill.

The Democratic leadership, which has been accusing the Eisenhower administration of "giving away" natural resources, had pressed the battle for a federal dam in Hell's Canyon.

Atmosphere

The Senate voted in a politically charged atmosphere after hearing sometimes impassioned oratory by 18 of its members in three hours.

Many of the 11 Democrats who spoke for the bill protested against what they called "intense pressure" exerted by the administration against the authorization bill for the 485-million-dollar dam project.

Many of the 11 Democrats who spoke for the bill protested against what they called "intense pressure" exerted by the administration against the authorization bill for the 485-million-dollar dam project.

Some of the seven debating Republicans termed the measure a political device being used to help the coming campaigns of Democrats in the Pacific Northwest.

John F. Stay, state commander, said a motion will be made at the state convention asking Equity "to pick up and withdraw the membership card of Miss Gale Sondergaard and all other members" who have been accused of Communist associations and have refused to testify before congressional investigating groups. Stay said the motion will specify that such refusal must have taken place in 1956 and hereafter.

Michael Baker Jr., Inc., Rochester, Pa., submitted a report of its survey to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, which hired the firm for the purpose after revised tolls, originally scheduled to go into effect in May, were postponed indefinitely.

The survey report recommended against any increase in automobile tolls on the turnpike "now or in the near future," but on trucks said in a summary of its findings:

"There is an urgent need, however, to lower truck tolls to induce trucking firms to use the turnpike system, instead of Pennsylvania free roads."

Commission

The commission, in May, proposed an increase of 40 per cent in automobile tolls and a 20 per cent decrease in truck tolls. A Senate investigation committee, reported it found "no justification" for any toll increase.

At the hearing ended here yesterday. A subcommittee of the House Committee on Un-American Activities was investigating a $5,000 award which the Fund for the Republic gave the Plymouth Meeting.

Wilson Terms Differences Of Opinion In Pentagon 'Normal' In View Of Big Problems

WASHINGTON, July 19 (UPI)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said today that differences of opinion in the Pentagon are "normal" in view of the complexity of defense problems.

But he denied that he and his aides have been giving conflicting testimony to Senate airpower investigators.

Representatives Refuse To Kill Civil Rights Proposal

WASHINGTON, July 19 (UPI)—The House refused today to kill the civil rights bill. It also defeated a move to strip the bill of everything but authority to set up an investigating commission.

A motion to avoid the measure by striking out the enacting clause, offered by Rep. William E. Miller (R-N.Y.), was rejected on a teller's vote of 140-91.

Miller's proposal brought GOP Leader Martin of Massachusetts to his feet with a warning to Republican members not to fall in a trap and help Southern Democrats "scuttle" the legislation.

It has long been a prime political issue in the Northwest whether Hells Canyon should be dammed by a federal structure, or the three smaller dams planned by the Idaho Power Co.

Democratic candidates who have been plugging for a federal dam include Sen. Morse (D-Ore.), who was the author of the bill rejected today. Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), said in debate that White House aides brought pressure against the bill for the government to step in where private enterprise stood ready to take on the job.

Idaho Power has said it can build three dams for 138 million dollars of its own money.

Miller's move appeared to have taken the GOP leadership completely by surprise. He was co-author of the original Republican civil rights bill which was incorporated in the bill now before the house under the name of Rep. Cellier (D-N.Y.), chairman of the Judiciary Committee.

Miller told the House he had come to the conclusion that the bill was dangerous. He compared it to "Hitler decrees" he said he had encountered as a prosecutor.

There is an urgent need, however, to lower truck tolls to induce trucking firms to use the turnpike system, instead of Pennsylvania free roads."

Commission

The Senate rejected on a voice vote an amendment by Rep. would have limited the bill to setting up the inquiry commission but would have denied that body subpoena powers and required it to consult with local authorities.

As it stands now, the civil rights legislation gives the commission broad inquiry powers and opens the way for the federal government to give additional legal aid to persons whose civil rights are in jeopardy.

You fill with water a regular marked measuring cup to the 1-cup level, then pour off an amount of water equal to the amount of shortening you'll need. Put pieces of shortening (pushing them below the liquid level) into the cup until the water reaches the 1-cup line again, and you'll have the required amount of shortening when you pour off the water.

Britain Names Ambassador To U.S.

LONDON, Friday, July 20 (UPI)—Britain today named Sir Harold Anthony Caccia—an old friend of President Eisenhower's—ambassador to the United States. He will succeed Sir Roger Makins.

Caccia, who pronounces his name "catcher," takes over what is regarded as the top job in Britain's diplomatic service overseas. A career diplomat since 1929, with a reputation as a brilliant thinker on foreign relations, he is serving as deputy undersecretary of state in the British Foreign Office.

Staff Member

The 51-year-old diplomat was a member of Eisenhower's staff at supreme headquarters during World War Two.

Makins, the 52-year-old present ambassador in Washington, is coming back to London to take a major role in the Eden government's battle to strengthen the nation economically. He is to be chairman of the National Economic Planning Board and head of the home and overseas financial departments of the Treasury.

Sir Edward Bridges, who now holds the top treasury post and heads the Civil Service, is retiring in the fall. Sir Norman Brook, now secretary to the Cabinet, will take over Bridges' position.

Makins was appointed ambassador to Washington in 1952.

"Sanitary inspectors regularly inspect such facilities to make certain that minimum standards of sanitation are maintained. Re-inspections are made as well. But the responsibility for obtaining a license rests with the individual concession operator," Dr. Mattison said.

Facilities found not possessing such a license will not be permitted to serve food or drink to the public, and are subject to prosecution when found doing so.

Fair and organization officials are asked to cooperate by requiring that each facility intending to operate at their affair have a license or show that his operation has been inspected and approved pending receipt of the license. The license fee is one dollar.

The public can aid by patronizing only those eating and drinking concessions displaying a Department of Health license, Dr. Mattison suggested.

Zoning Laws Set Orderly Pattern For Sound Community Development

Francis A. Pitkin, state director of community development, offered a timely suggestion this week when he spoke before the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce.

He advised local municipal authorities to pass zoning regulations and establish planning agencies as the soundest approach to proper community development.

Noting the lack of zoning laws in Monroe County, Pitkin called upon officials to "take stock and determine what course you wish to take for the future."

He added: "The right answer rarely comes by accident. To determine the future of your community, you must take positive action to guide growth now."

Pitkin suggested a zoning group for every community in the county with each determining its own local needs but working with a zoning agency at the county level. He observed that Monroe County already has set up housing, planning and redevelopment authorities, but declared these agencies are not enough.

Purpose of zoning is to control the growth of a community through the passage of ordinances restricting the construction of certain types of buildings to specified areas. For example, one area might be limited to dwellings, another to dwellings and small stores, a third to all types of buildings except industries, while a fourth would be open to factories.

Such a regulation, if approved by each borough and township, would allow for an orderly planning of the community and protect the person who builds a beautiful home on a desirable piece of land from encroachment by a junk yard, coal dock, factory or some other such business which wanted to set up shop on an adjacent property.

Conversely, it is just as important that industries and similar concerns be afforded protection from encroachment by new homes, apartment and store buildings being erected in areas best suited for industries to expand their plants. Factories are the life-blood of a community and should not be

Public Requested To Cooperate Fully In Today's Air Raid, Conelerad Tests

Monroe County will take part in today's nationwide Civil Defense test. Everyone is requested to cooperate.

The public will have two parts to play in the test. First, everybody will be expected to seek shelter when local sirens, horns or whistles sound the warbling or wailing three-minute "take cover" signal. (This differs from the new "alert" or attention signal—a long, steady blast advising everyone to listen for emergency information and instructions.)

Second, the public is asked to monitor the special Conelerad test broadcast and to report the findings to "Project Tune In," State Council of Defense, Harrisburg, Pa. (A stifled or squeezed to the extent of being forced to move elsewhere.

One of a series of three bills passed by the last session of the General Assembly offers local communities financial assistance for redevelopment projects, Pitkin said. A second measure provides for industrial promotional assistance, while the third establishes a State Industrial Development Authority and appropriates five million dollars for building new industrial plants in depressed areas.

Help for communities also is available at the federal level, Pitkin pointed out. Besides financial aid for zoning of boroughs and townships, Pitkin said that under the Housing Act of 1954 the federal government provides assistance in zoning which is administered at the state level through the Department of Commerce.

Citing the importance of zoning and planning for the Pocono region, the state official warned local leaders. "There will be pressure on you to provide recreational advantages as more and more of the unpopulated area is developed. You will have to decide whether you want an industrial area or a resort area. With careful planning, you can successfully have both."

This pressure for development will mean chance to build and make money, Pitkin said. In this connection, he warned planners against "killing the goose that lays the golden egg."

Pitkin and every person at the meeting seemed agreed that the Pocono region is just coming into its own and will continue to go forward. Growth and development will not be without their headaches, however.

But as Pitkin indicated, the time to deal with "growing pains" is before they set in. That time is now. Every borough and township should have a zoning law administered by a representative cross-section of the community. Until such is the case, there can be no orderly pattern for extensive development and hence no protection for the person who invests his savings in any type of real estate.

Fairly Spoken By MARGARET LATROBE

Are You Really Smarter Than Folks Back Home?

One of the country's foremost publishers explains the secret of his paper's fine reporting.

"Write the story as you would to a younger brother who are smarter than!" is this golden nugget of advice given to the newsman handling which is fit to print.

The intimate style of a letter home is indeed the ideal technique for printed communiques. Readable, chatty, warm—the letter home is the essence of good tidings. Tidings snatched from the mailman, ripped open, devoured with zeal, read and re-read. With bits and pieces savored for the kinsfolk and maybe even to impress the neighbors with.

I am hesitant, as always, to challenge so eminent a gentleman on any point. Least of all how to bring up reporters. But still, his phrase—"to a younger brother you are smarter than" gives me the fidgets. And though a stickler for grammar, I am not kept awake by his glaring liberty with such use of "than."

It appears to me that what the wise publisher meant to say was, "write the story as you would to a younger brother who—perhaps—had less information on the particular point than you have."

The trouble with many of us—not only reporters, certainly—is that we foolishly assume we are smarter than little brother and the whole kit and kaboodle of relatives. Acquaintances, we can be assured, are much less gifted than ourselves, but we don't write letters to them!

Even though we have a lifetime of evidence that little brother is a real schmuck, a dumbkopf from way back, it would seem both futile and arrogant to write under the assumption that you were smarter than he. (If he's all that stupid, he won't be interested in hearing what you have to say.)

Little brothers have a nasty habit of graduating from Princeton magna cum laude, landing in the bank president's chair about the time you side up for a loan, or otherwise distinguishing themselves in ways disconcerting to older sons. How would you write a bank-president-little-brother? Maybe revise the wording in the mortgage note?

Sorry, Mr. Publisher. I believe even those of us who have a high opinion of our own smartness ought to keep this news under our bonnets. Particularly when it comes to writing brother, who can spot condescension quicker than you can say "Hear Ye." Seems to me the best writing includes the reader in the top-thinking group; never suggests that, except for the writer, we would live and die in ignorance. That although we learn much from what we read, we are not aided by our need to learn. That, having read, we pause and smile, thinking—"I knew that all along; this just makes it a little clearer."

Of course, big brother IS mighty smart. But I ain't so dumb, either.

Both phases of today's test are important. They should be regarded as serious business, as vital step in defense preparations in the event of enemy attack. There should be no apathy on the public's part, no thought that the test is a game or a nuisance that must be endured solely to please a group of Civil Defense officials. The public stands to benefit from the test, but only in direct proportion to the extent of its participation.

Robert S. Allen Reports

U.S. Aides Split On Sale Of Farm Surplus To India

Washington, July 19 — India wants to buy a large amount of American farm surpluses at cut-rate prices.

For the most among the desired commodities is 500,000,000 bushels of wheat, over a five-year period; plus an unspecified quantity of cotton, dairy products and other food stocks held by the government.

To finance these purchases, India will require a loan from either the World Bank or the U.S.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson strongly favors this plan.

But the State Department, strangely, is stalled on it.

Secretary Dulles confirmed this under sharp senatorial questioning. Senators Russell Long (D., La.) and Milton Young (D., N.D.), apprised of the State Department's opposition by Secretary Benson, summoned Dulles for an explanation.

He informed the senators he knew all about the Indian proposal, but appeared vague as to why his Department is blocking it.

One reason hinted by Dulles is secret Pakistan disapproval. A pro-Western ally of the U.S. in contrast to India's neutrality, Pakistan apparently fears India is planning to use the proposed huge food purchases to set itself up a reserve to combat famine in Asia. Pakistan is very eager to be the center of such Far Eastern food reserves.

In disposing farm surpluses abroad, Dulles told the senators eye-to-eye on one policy—selling these commodities to satellite countries.

"That would afford us a great opportunity to take the economic initiative," said Dulles. "The Soviet Union is urging an economic offensive against us, making offers of all kinds in one place or another. By offering our food surpluses to the satellites, we could counter that offensive with a highly effective one of our own."

Note: Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce has sounded out Secretary Dulles on shifting from Ambassador to Italy to Ambassador to India. That post is being vacated by Ambassador John Sherman Cooper, who is running for Senator in Kentucky. Mrs. Luce has repeatedly indicated that she would "like a change of diplomatic scenery."

What they said—In their discussion with Dulles, Senators Long and Young made it sternly clear they disapprove of the State Department's hostile attitude toward Premier Nehru's plan.

"Why is this sale of farm surpluses being held up by your Department?" demanded Young.

"What's it all about?"

"I can't imagine it being held up," replied Dulles. "It may be that it's under study, but I do not think it is being held up."

County Civil Defense Ready For Today's National Alert

Officials Expect Good Reaction

COUNTY CIVIL DEFENSE headquarters announced last night that all is in readiness for today's national and state alert exercise. Every foreseeable detail has been planned. All CD personnel have been briefed repeatedly.

Local CD officials expect good reaction on the whole, but it will be impossible to anticipate results until the exercise is over, CD Director Paul M. Crawn said.

There will be no public demonstrations or exercises in this county. Such exercises would have to be carried out on Saturday, July 21, a time when the highways of this county would be filled with traffic and many CD personnel would find it impossible to participate. Such demonstrations and activation, it was generally felt would be more successful if carried out at another time, Crawn stated.

Official hours for Civil Defense control center personnel will be from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. However, County Headquarters workers will be on duty from 9 a.m. until midnight.

Public participation will be from 1:40 p.m. until the alert-all-clear is sounded at 1:50. Public participation in the Conelrad test will be from 4 until 4:30 p.m. It is hoped that residents will listen in on their radios during this time and mail their reactions to State Council of Civil Defense, Main Capitol Bldg., Harrisburg.

Two official Conelrad monitors have been appointed for each township and borough of the county. They will turn in detailed reports on official forms to County CD Headquarters.

All CD personnel division heads, aside from being available during the greater part of the day, will assemble at county headquarters from 4 to 7 p.m. to work out theoretical problems occasioned by heavy nuclear bombing of such nearby cities as Philadelphia, Trenton, Reading, Allentown, Bethlehem, Easton, and Wilkes-Barre. These areas Monroe County is definitely committed to support.

These problems will affect such departments as communications, transportation, security, welfare, public works and equipment, medical, rescue, fire, police and others.

Members of the local camera club will work with Civil Defense to register full coverage of the alert exercise, the movement of traffic, reaction of the public, and CD workers functioning at their different posts.

Judge Fred W. Davis, county director, and Roderick McLeod, Daily Record photographer, will observe public reaction from the air during the alert, from a plane piloted by Hal Hamlin, aviation coordinator for Monroe County.

Scores of CD personnel, in addition to departmental heads, will work throughout the day and night at County Headquarters. These include radio and telephone operators, Girl Scouts, Explorer Scouts, Auxiliary Police, welfare workers, etc.

Women of the welfare mass care center of the Veterans of Foreign War, a group that distinguished themselves during the flood last year, will serve lunch to headquarters workers who will be unable to leave their posts during noon or supper hours.

Paratroopers Make History

INDIANTOWN GAP, July 19 (UPI)—A battalion of veteran paratroopers today completed the largest airdrop in Pennsylvania history at this huge military reservation.

More than 350 troopers of a provisional battalion of the 82nd Airborne Division carried out the practice maneuver without mishap. They jumped from C119 cargo planes at an altitude of 1,250 feet.

Not Feasible

The State Department, in announcing the decision, said bluntly that "it is not feasible" any longer for the United States to go ahead with the offer extended last December. It said "developments" within the past seven months have rendered uncertain Egypt's ability to carry her share of the financial burden.

TOWHANNA — Monroe County Civil Defense Director, Judge Fred W. Davis, acting in behalf of the Americas Radio Relay League presented the league's Public Service Award to Colonel Robert C. Angster, commanding officer, Tobyhanna Signal Depot yesterday. The award was made for outstanding work performed by personnel of the depot's MARS (Military Affiliate Radio Station) during last August's tragic flood.

The ARRL's citation was based on performance of the depot radio station beginning on August 19, 1955 when the magnitude of the disaster was realized. The Amateur Radio Station, K3WCQ, located at the depot was immediately placed into the round-the-clock operation and organized an emergency radio network consisting of amateur radio stations located throughout Pennsylvania as well as neighboring states who were in a position to handle traffic directly connected with the flood disaster.

Bond Sales Double In One Year

SAVINGS BOND sales in Monroe County last month better than doubled the figure for the same month last year, according to E. H. Wyckoff, county bond chairman.

Wyckoff said a total $117,525 in series E and H bonds were sold here last month, compared to $55,706 in June, 1955.

Report

This announcement was made as the Treasury Department reported that cumulative bond sales in Pennsylvania for the first six months of 1956 totaled more than $226-million, or 48.2 percent of the state's goal for this year.

The depot also installed mobile radio stations to handle radio-teletype communications network traffic with Stroudsburg, Indiana Gap Military Reservation and Fort Meade, Maryland. Air traffic at the depot and at Mt. Pocono Airport was also handled by operators from the depot who set up air-ground control stations.

U.S. Cancels Aid To Egypt

WASHINGTON, July 19 (UPI)—The United States cracked down on Egypt tonight by cancelling a previous offer to help finance the $1,300,000,000 Aswan Dam on the Nile River.

The sudden action left the way clear for Russia to step in—if we can and desire—to aid President Gamal Abdel Nasser's government in launching the huge irrigation-power project.

Not Feasible

The State Department, in announcing the decision, said bluntly that "it is not feasible" any longer for the United States to go ahead with the offer extended last December. It said "developments" within the past seven months have rendered uncertain Egypt's ability to carry her share of the financial burden.

Growing Cooler

The statement did not say so but the United States had been growing cooler toward the dam project as it studied Nasser's friendliness with Russia and his big arms purchases from the Communist bloc.

'Green Light' Given County Authority

MONROE County Housing Authority yesterday was given the "green light" to proceed with the construction of 100 subsidized housing units for the twin boroughs and Stroud Township at a total cost of $11½-million.

The go-ahead came with an announcement by the Public Housing Administration in Washington it stands ready to underwrite the cost of 4,172 new units in 42 communities, including those in Monroe County.

Rev. Roger C. Stimson, local authority chairman, greeted the news as being "the goal toward which we've been working."

Contract

Mr. Stimson said the local housing group, at its last meeting, authorized its officers to sign a contract with the PHA, which announced yesterday it expects to execute such agreements soon.

Forty-four units will be erected off Normal St. in East Stroudsburg at a cost of $648,066. Twenty-eight units will be built off Garden St., in Stroudsburg for $416,481, while a similar number will be constructed off N. Fifth St., in Stroud Township for $422,037.

Mr. Stimson said the authority has options on tracts at these locations. He noted that the latest PHA announcement will now make it possible for the local housing group to buy these properties as soon as title searches have been completed.

The authority chairman was unable to say when the projects will be ready for bid. He said plans are now being prepared by the local architectural firm of Rinker & Kiefer.

Monroe County Receives First Surplus Food Load

MONROE COUNTY received its first load of surplus food yesterday, and additional consignments are expected to arrive here Monday. However, John R. Lesoine, chairman of the board of commissioners, emphasized last night that these commodities will NOT be ready for distribution to needy residents until the middle of next week.

Ample notice regarding distribution will be made in The Daily Record, Lesoine stressed.

Last night, a truck brought 50 hundred-pound bags of rice here from the district supply point in Clarks Summit, Lesoine disclosed.

Monday

The board chairman also reported that 200 cases of butter, 313 cases of cheese, 120 cases of pork luncheon meat, 99 cases of land and 15 cases of dried milk will be brought here from Jim Thorpe Monday.

Dickson said the board chairman also reported a truck to bring the surplus commodities here. They will be stored in the basement of the court house, from which distribution will be made.

Lesoine said about 1,500 applications for food have been received. About 20,000 persons affected by the Ronson strike are eligible, in addition to another 581 other persons, he added.

Persons wishing to receive some of the surplus items should obtain applications at the commissioners office in the court house in advance of the distribution.

The surplus foods program is administered by the State Department of Property and Supplies. Distribution of the commodities is expected to be made once each month, in this county.

Chess Club Holds Outing

AT THE REGULAR weekly session of the Stroudsburg Chess Club last night, one of the aspiring candidates for club championship, Harold James, had the distinction of taking one game from the reigning champion Joseph Kushner. It was a hard, nip-and-tuck game and James won by following through on a momentary advantage with his heaviest artillery.

He was not left long in possession of the laurel wreath of victory, however, as Kushner came right back and beat him in two tough contests.

Youngest Member

The youngest member of the club, Sidney Kushner, son of the champion, was in fine fettle and played competently in three games. However he was defeated in all three, once by James and twice by William P. Deering. It was definitely James night to win and he defeated Louis Mondelle, East Stroudsburg, one of the club's seasoned players. He beat Mondelle in all four games.

John Erickson and Earl Weiss, both of the Southside, spent the entire session in a series of close thoughtful, technical games. Weiss was in great form and defeated Erickson three games in a row, but Erickson went to work and took a long and stubborn contest.

Circus Troupe Awaits Owner

STRANDED employees of the bankrupt King Brothers Circus last night were still awaiting the arrival of Arnold E. Maley, the remaining partner, to learn when they may be able to continue their trip to the winter quarters in Macon, Ga.

Eight workers and a menagerie of animals have been stranded at Stokes Mill since late last week funds.

Horses Leave

Eight horses left the Stokes Mill location last night for Peru, Ind. However, three more elephants were expected to arrive here momentarily.

Meanwhile, the crowds continued to come to Stokes Mill last night despite the inclement weather.

Senator Raps New York Milk Market

ELMIRA, N. Y., July 19 (UPI)—State Sen. Austin W. Erwin of Genesee said today milk marketing conditions in New York State were depressing "the return of producers in both the free and regulated areas" of the state.

Erwin appeared at one of a series of federal hearings on a proposal to extend the New York Metropolitan milk marketing order to unregulated sections of the state.

Producer

"The producer in the unregulated market generally receives at best only slightly more than the publican majority leader of the New York blend price," the Republican majority leader of the Legislature said. He favored the proposed extension of controls to the unregulated areas.

"We believe the existing conditions not only violate orderly marketing practices so essential to a stable dairy industry by permitting dumping of surplus milk from unregulated areas on a regulated

Bloom Seeks Settlement

PHILADELPHIA, July 19 (UPI)—An attempt to settle the disputes of this city's GOP committee will prolong his stay here, Republican state chairman George L. Bloom said today.

Referring to a meeting which he held yesterday with former sheriff Austin Meehan and city chairman Robert C. Duffy about a dispute over the city chairmanship, Bloom stated it was "very encouraging." It was noted, however, that no settlement was made.

Suggestion

It was suggested that Meehan's effort to unseat Duffy for the chairmanship be postponed until after the national elections or possibly until after the Republican National Convention has been held.

"If you are miserable and worn out because of your discomfort, the Triangle shoe company offers relief from backache...by their unique action, by their stretching effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys sending increased output of the 15 million kidney tubes."

Viewing the Screens

THOSE WHO FOLLOW television will be interested to learn some facts and figures, according to CBS, about the growth and extent of the industry.

In the last 10 years, for example, 35 million U. S. families have invested about $17 billion dollars for television receivers and their maintenance. Over 90 per cent of all U. S. families live in areas served by television signals.

Out of every 100 television families, 94 have choice of two or more channels; and more than 87 of 100 receive service from three or more stations.

It is interesting to compare this 10-year growth with that of other items to reach the same number (35 million) of homes; telephone service, 80 years; the electric washer, 47 years; electric wiring, 62 years; the automobile, 49 years; and radio, 25 years.

The question is: Why? Many families feel that it is cheaper entertainment, both for themselves and their children, than movies, plays and other forms of entertainment. Others claim that it is a good way to keep children out of the streets, a particular problem of the cities.

Gone are the days, it seems, when children made up their own entertainment: paper dolls, tea parties and endless other inventions. It is also true, however, that a great deal of interest is being taken in establishing playgrounds in the cities, in planning recreation indoors and out-of-doors for an increasing number of boys and girls.

Robert Moses' campaign in New York City, comes to mind most readily. When the novelty of television has worn off, people do tend to become more selective about what they see—let us hope.

Minister Fails To Gain Divorce

MIAMI, Fla., July 19 — The Rev. Thomas Graham Northcott today lost his bid for a divorce and instead was ordered to pay his wife $300 monthly maintenance.

The 35-year-old wife, Phyllis, also won custody of the couple's three young children.

Order

Circuit Judge Ray Pearson ordered the Canadian-born minister to pay the costs of the litigation in which he sought a divorce and in which Mrs. Northcott asked for separate maintenance.

She accused Northcott, 36, of misconduct with a parishioner, Mrs. Zoneda Peck, when he was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Staten Island, N. Y., a post he resigned in 1954. Previously he had held pastorates at Washington, D. C., Ossining, N. Y., and Trenton, N. J.

Religious Services Find Place In Modern World Of Business, Fast Moving Industry

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

AP Religion Writer

THE HARD-HEADED business world today is making room for matters of the soul.

In a realm known mostly for profits-and-products materialism, there's an expanding addition of things spiritual. More and more offices and plants around the country are giving religion a place in the day's work.

Many companies have installed chaplains.

Other firms take time out each day for devotions.

Some have set up chapels or worship rooms.

"There's more religious work in industry than ever before," says the Rev. Anthony Monteiro, who conducts a special course on the "Industrial Chaplaincy," started in 1948, at Bloomfield (N.J.) Theological Seminary.

Nine Companies

He himself serves as a chaplain for nine companies. He said:

"Ever since the war, both management and employees have begun to realize they needed something in their work besides just hours and production . . . but have come to realize there is something else far more important."

A 1954 survey by the National Assn. of Manufacturers showed at least 40 companies have chaplains. The Rev. Mr. Monteiro, in close touch with the development, estimates the number now at 60 to 70.

Participation is always optional and services are kept on a non-denominational basis.

The streets of Baltimore were lighted by gas as early as 1816.

Thunderstorm Floods Royal Garden Party

LONDON, July 19 — Two heavy thunderstorms dampened a royal garden party at Buckingham Palace today and sent 8,500 fashionably dressed guests scampering for cover.

Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh took refuge in a tent. They were joined by the Queen Mother, Princess Margaret and the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester.

Bands

Guests crowded under palace marquees, huddled under trees and beneath the eaves of two stands from which bands were playing. Among the refugees from the downpour were King Faisal of Iraq and ex-King Umberto of Italy.

Presentation of guests to the royal family continued inside the tent, but the party thinned out somewhat earlier than usual.

PP&L Ordered To Reduce Rates

HARRISBURG, July 19 (P)—The Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. today was ordered to reduce rates by more than one million dollars Aug. 1 to $72,000 consumers in 28 eastern and central Pennsylvania counties.

The Public Utility Commission also directed PP & L to refund $1,920,000 to consumers for what the PUC called excessive rates over the last 17 months.

The firm must file new schedules reflecting a $1,366,156 rate cut by Aug. 1 and refunds must be paid not later than Dec. 1.

The commission's order results from a rate complaint case started 16 months ago by 23 industrial firms who contended PP & L received an abnormal return on its investment despite a $323,000 industrial rate reduction on Feb. 28, 1956.

The ordered reduction amounts to about $823,000 for residential and small commercial users and $543,000, including last year's cut, for large industrial customers.

Refunds to cover the period from Feb. 28, 1955 to next Aug. 1 will total about $1,160,000 for 589,149 home and small commercial customers and about $760,000 for 2,878 large-scale users, the PUC said.

Average

The average annual reduction for residential consumers amounts to $1.44 and about $2.04 for the 17-month refund period, plus interest ranging from 4½ to 6 per cent. The reduction is equal to 1-4 percent of the company's annual revenue.

Among his outstanding assignments, Col. Fishkin served on the first Joint Military Mission to Spain in 1951 and was the Signal Officer of the Central Army Group Plans Section in Heidelberg during 1953-54. He was a member of the Executive Staff in the Office of the Chief Signal Officer prior to receiving his present assignment in March 1956.

Court Issues Injunction

HARRISBURG, July 19 (P)—Dauphin County Court today issued a preliminary injunction restraining the state from enforcing a new law which prohibits price advertising of eye glasses, frames and lenses.

Judge Karl E. Richards issued the injunction on an appeal made by George A. Ullom and Elizabeth Hunter, copartners in a Pittsburgh optical firm known as the Price Optical Co.

The state Justice Department earlier this week answered the complaint asking the court not to declare the law unconstitutional and not to restrain its enforcement.

The Pittsburgh firm contended the law infringes on the constitutional rights of Pennsylvania residents.

Judge Richards did not set a date for further hearing in the case.

Bridge Bids On Monday

SEALED BIDS will be received by Monroe County commissioners at 10 a.m. Monday, July 30, for the purpose of removing the washed-out Rinaldi Bridge in Price Township.

The successful bidder at his own cost must secure the necessary rights-of-entry from property owners upon whose land the bridge is located, the commissioners said.

Legion Rewards Alice Gilpin

PHILADELPHIA, July 19 (P)—Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban yesterday appealed to the Pennsylvania Department of the American Legion for support of his nation's policies in the troubled Middle East.

Eban spoke at the opening session of the legion's 38th annual convention. Some 5,000 delegates are here for the sessions, which conclude Saturday.

Earlier, Gov. Leader, himself a Legionnaire, asked the convention to support programs to aid youth throughout the state. He stressed such projects as the forestry camps for juvenile delinquents, improved hospitals for the mentally deficient, and special schools for physically and mentally handicapped children.

Feeling

"We cannot, without shame, turn over to our children less freedom, less opportunity, than we inherited from our fathers," he asserted.

Alice Gilpin, of South Sterling, near Scranton, received a scholarship to Penn State as the winner of the Legion's annual essay contest.

Cadillac

His Last Switch in Motor Cars!

We have no way of knowing, of course, how many different makes of motor cars this gentleman has owned through the years. But we'd wager that he has changed his preference a great many times in his years on the highway.

And we're also willing to bet that he has now made his last switch in motor cars!

For this time it's a Cadillac! And it is historically true that once a motorist makes the move to the "car of cars", he is usually a Cadillac owner for life.

What are the reasons for this great loyalty? Well, let us count them off.

First of all, there are the things which everyone recognizes in Cadillac. There is its great beauty . . . its matchless luxury . . . and the unquestioned respect which the car commands the world over.

Then there are those qualities with which anyone who has ever driven a Cadillac is familiar. There is its marvelous comfort and ease of handling . . . its magnificent power and performance . . . its wonderful balance and agility . . . and its extraordinary quietness of operation.

And, finally, there are those things which only Cadillac owners themselves can fully appreciate. There is the car's remarkable economy of operation and upkeep—its incredible longevity—its marvelous resale value—and the great pride and happiness that it bestows upon the man at the wheel.

* * *

If this little check list of Cadillac virtues coincides with what you've been looking for in a motor car, you ought to come in and see us very soon.

You'll find, by the way, that we have recently made two additions to this list of things you get when you make your decision for Cadillac.

We're talking about prompt delivery and a generous trade-in allowance!

Better come in while the circumstances are so favorable—and make your last switch in motor cars!

Decision To Consolidate Service Command In Pacific May Revive Discussion On Pentagon

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
THE Pentagon's decision to consolidate the Army and Navy commands in the Pacific seems likely to revive the recent discussion of consolidation in the Pentagon itself.

During World War II, before there was a single Department of Defense, the United States adopted the policy of consolidating area commands under whichever force was dominant.

In the Pacific, however, Army and Navy commands remained equal, cooperating, and sometimes not cooperating, through Washington.

There was a big fight over complete unification when the Department of Defense was established, with creation of a third department for air. Creation of this third department caused many observers to describe the ultimate result as disunification.

In the years that have followed, with development of the Air Force as carrier of the atom bomb and

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Walter Hay

Hay-Holecek Wedding At Mt. Pocono

Announcement has been made of Mark Walter Hay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hay of Pocono Summit, to Beverly Louise Holecek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Holecek, of Millerton.

They were married in the Mount Pocono Methodist Church on June 30, at 1 p.m. Rev. Edgar C. Herish performed the ceremony, assisted by William E. Harner. Douglas E. Gordon was organist. The church was decorated with white gladiolas, carnations and pompon daisies.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a petit-point dress of lace and nylon tulle, designed with a fitted bodice, portrait neckline and cap sleeves. The full skirt had a princess panel and deep peplos and ended in a cathedral-length train. The fingertip veil fell from a shell cap of iridescent sequins and seed pearl embroidery. She carried a cascade of white carnations and ivy.

Her sister, Miss Ruth M. Holecek of Millerton was her maid of honor. She wore a floorlength gown of bullet blue chiffon with a matching stole and a tulip flower band on her hair. She carried a cascade of yellow pompon daisies, yellow roses and blue delphinium.

Miss Winifred Hay, of Pocono Summit, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Joanne Brown of Millerton and Mrs. Kenneth P. Hay of Pocono Summit, were bridesmaids. They wore similar gowns of daffodil yellow chiffon with stones and had matching tulle flower bands with seed pearls. They carried cascades of white pompon daisies and blue delphinium.

Kenneth P. Hay of Pocono Summit was best man for his brother. Ushers included Joseph Faircloth, Pocono Summit; Keiff Lockwood of Waymart; Donald Kinsley and James Kinsley of Pocono Summit, and Weston Nauman, of Mount Pocono.

A reception was held in the church social rooms immediately following the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Williamson High School, Tioga, and attended Waynesburg College, Waynesburg. She is employed by Westinghouse Electric Corp. Elmira, N.Y. Mr. Hay was graduated from Coalbaugh Township High School and completed a course in electronics at Williamson Technical Institute. He is employed as a technician at Westinghouse Electric Corp., Elmira, N.Y.

The bride was feted at several pre-wedding parties, given by Mrs. Joyce Felix, and Miss Ruth M. Holecek, Miss Abbie Henning and Miss Ann Marie Fedin and the women of the Jackson Center Methodist Church.

For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother wore a blue lace dress with white accessories and a lavender orchid. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink lace dress with white accessories and a lavender orchid corsage.

As a going away costume, the bride wore a navy blue silk suit with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Woman's Club Guest From Finland Arriving For Visit; Clubwomen Invited To Coffee

The improvement of international relations through the promotion of closer acquaintance between the people of different countries will be more than a textbook theory in Monroe County, thanks to the Stroudsburg Woman's Club summer project.

They have invited a foreign student, Miss Aila Joro, of Helsinki, Finland, to spend two months as a guest in their own homes or other homes in the county open to her. Her visit, which will be from July 22 to September 25, has been arranged by the International Affairs Department of the club, with Mrs. J. Frank Grimm as chairman of the division of international hostesses and Mrs. Fred H. Rhodes, chairman of the division of international understanding, in charge.

Not only will Miss Joro and her hostesses have a chance to know something of each other's way of life, but Miss Joro will also speak, on request, at local club meetings. Clubs who wish to schedule her as a speaker may make arrangements with Mrs. Grant Nittrouer.

Office on Monday

To launch her visit, a coffee in her honor has been arranged for Monday, July 23, at 10 a.m., at the Stroud Community House by Mrs. William Hannas, club chairman of hospitality. Mrs. Eugene Martin is serving as chairman of the coffee and will be assisted by Mrs. Parke Kunkle, Mrs. Evan Reese, Mrs. O. J. Liljenstein, Mrs. Harold Ingraham, Mrs. Edward Hess, Mrs. David Shiffer. Members of all Monroe County clubs are invited to attend and to meet Miss Joro.

Those who would like to serve as a hostess in their home to Miss Joro may consult either Mrs. J. Frank Grimm or Mrs. Fred H. Rhodes.

The possible trepidation with which hostesses may await her arrival can scarcely equal her own. In a letter to Mrs. Claude W. Leister, president of the Women's Club, she confesses: "I have to admit that I have had many sleepless nights because of my trip," but eagerness is her most evident emotion.

"Above all, I'm happy to get the opportunity to learn to speak English better. I am very interested in your Teachers College, too."

"I shall be very happy to meet your daughters and other young people over there. I know already now that I shall be feeling at home with you and in other families in your country."

"P.S. I shall start from Helsinki on July 4 for Amsterdam, where I shall take the plane July 15 for New York."

A student at the University of Helsinki, specializing in history and philosophy, Miss Joro hopes through her visit here to prepare herself to enter the foreign service or foreign trade fields.

She has served as a guide for foreign visitors in the Olympic Games, and worked as a correspondent and a translator in one of the big import firms of Helsinki.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Someday I'm going to manage it so that expected company will find me sitting serene and spotless, awaiting their arrival. Unexpected company you can take in stride—hair in curl-papers and mop nail in the middle of the kitchen.

But invited and expected company deserves better treatment. But around our house seldom they get it. Things happen, and always in that last critical ten minutes before the company arrives.

The cat, boxing with the petunias you've arranged so tastefully, you thought, upsets the vase, water and all. The dog comes bouncing in, smelling ripe of dead fish or something similar he's been rolling in down in the swamp.

The telephone rings just before the coffee you're warming suddenly starts to boil, and if all else fails, you can usually blow fuse trying to get the ironing board down in a hurry after you'd done a little last minute pressing.

It always gets things off to a good start to have your guests see all the lights in the house go off just as they drive up, and grope their way in to find you down in a very cobwebby cellar trying to find fuses.

It seems sometimes like pestilence at work, but in my more honest moments, I'll have to admit that most of it can be laid to my own door. Trying to make haste too fast not only makes accidents happen but it even affects the dog and the cat, who also begin tearing around like crazy.

Refrests were served by Mrs. Besecker to the following members: Colleen Lessig, Joyce Riday, Barbara Riday, Sandra Lessig, Linda Lessig, Avis Gunn, Susan David, Barbara Moyer, Susan Brewer, Maryann Benson, Kathy Dennis, Jean Dennis, Sharon Reish and Brenda Reish.

Adults present were Mrs. Helen Moyer, Mrs. Helen Dennis and the county advisor, Miss Margaret McLaren.

The next meeting will be held July 31 at the home of Avis Gunn.

You'll need one egg (slightly beaten) and about a third cup of fine dry bread crumbs for bread-freshments were served and music and singing marked the luncheon.

Old-Timers Share Memories Of Paradise

Friday the 13th and a pouring rain merely intensified the "echoes of Paradise" which marked the meeting of the group of old-timers at the home of Mrs. Elmer Goucher, King St., East Stroudsburg. Since all of them were formerly closely associated with the Paradise Valley section the conversation drifted back to the people, places and events of that time.

Sharing the memories were Mrs. Clinton Lear, Miss Laura Courtright, Miss Lizzie Lee, of Stroudsburg; Mrs. William Geiger and Mrs. Robert Murray, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hobbs, Niagara Falls, N.Y.; Mrs. E. S. Smith, East Stroudsburg; Mrs. Rudolph Schubert, Stokes Mill; Mrs. George W. Crane, Beakleyville.

PARTICULARLY vivid in their memory were some of these places: the old one-room school and the churches which no longer stand. Only one of the group remembered the first Methodist Church in Paradise, but several remembered the ancient God's Acre near the site of the first Lutheran Church there, and where relatives of two of the party are buried under markers of gray field stone.

All of them remembered when Keeokee Chapel was built when they were children, replacing the old Evangelical structure, plain and prim, where their fathers and mothers had received early religious training and where the men and women sat on opposite sides.

When the talk turned to people, everyone remembered fondly some of the oldtimers, many now fallen from the ranks, others living far from their homes in the Valley.

Within their lifetime, they recalled the coming of the telephone and the automobile, the radio and the first library. As the afternoon waned, they read the poem by Washington Van Dusen, "Twilight in Paradise Valley."

Mrs. Goucher served refreshments from a table bright with flowers and with Mrs. Smith saying grace. Messages and signatures of those present were prepared to be sent to Mrs. Cora Price, who was not able to join the group this year. After a visit to the rain-wet flower garden with its sweet peas, lillies and roses, the group left, planning to possibly hold another reunion in 1957.

The church was decorated with gladioli and daisies. The ceremony was followed by a buffet luncheon at the home of the bride. Leaving for their wedding trip, the bride wore a yellow organdy print dress with straw daisies and white camellias in a corsage.

The bride was graduated from Honesdale High School and is employed at Tatamy Sportswear. She is a member of the auxiliary to the fire company at Tatamy. Mr. Bond is also active in the Tatamy Fire Company and their wedding reception was held at the Tatamy Firehall.

Mr. Bond attended Chestnut Hill High School and served as radar-man in the U.S. Navy from 1949 to 1953. He is now assistant steward at Tatamy Fire House.

Mr. Bond will start from Helsinki on July 4 for Amsterdam, where I shall take the plane July 15 for New York."

A student at the University of Helsinki, specializing in history and philosophy, Miss Joro hopes through her visit here to prepare herself to enter the foreign service or foreign trade fields.

She has served as a guide for foreign visitors in the Olympic Games, and worked as a correspondent and a translator in one of the big import firms of Helsinki.

Deadline Racing Fund For Guest Home

The fund for the Guest Home for the Needy Aged is growing but the deadline is approaching.

Mrs. Rose Smith, secretary of the WAAEB's which is sponsoring the project, announced yesterday. They have now $5,600 she said, which is short of the sum needed to take up the option they hold on a property they expect to use for this purpose.

Monday noon is the deadline for the option, and Mrs. Smith, who has sent out about 500 letters appealing for funds, hopes to have sufficient money by that time.

Former STC Students Wed In Bethany

TWO former students at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College were married on Wednesday, July 18, at 12 noon at the Bethany Presbyterian Church. Miss Marie LaTourette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. LaTourette, of Homestead RD3, became the bride of Robert Barron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barron, of Portland, in a pretty summer wedding.

Particularly vivid in their memory were some of these places: the old one-room school and the churches which no longer stand. Only one of the group remembered the first Methodist Church in Paradise, but several remembered the ancient God's Acre near the site of the first Lutheran Church there, and where relatives of two of the party are buried under markers of gray field stone.

The bride wore a gown of imported white Swiss organdy organdy over taffeta with a portrait necklace with a pointed collar in front, rief sleeves and a ballerina-length bouffant skirt. Her finger tip veil was arranged from an organdy cap, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies.

The bride's sister, Miss Norma LaTourette, was maid of honor, and Cynthia Bugge was bridesmaid. The maid of honor wore pink organdy organdy over taffeta with a pointed collar in front, rief sleeves and a ballerina-length bouffant skirt. Her finger tip veil was arranged from an organdy cap, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies.

Two Brothers Die In Auto Wreck

LANCASTER, Pa., July 19 (AP)—Two brothers, Terry Lukshus, 10, and Randy, 8, of Lancaster, were killed in an automobile accident on Route 72 near Quarryville, Pa. today.

State police said the boys were riding in a sports car driven by their uncle, James Lukshus, 24, of Peach Bottom.

Passing

According to police, the accident occurred after Lukshus passed a car driven by Larry Stauffer, 17, of Kirkwood. The sports car hit a guard rail and the two autos collided.

Stauffer and a passenger, Richard Groff, 17, of Quarryville, were uninjured. Lukshus was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital with shock and minor injuries.

The boys were the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lukshus.

Pierce Posts 14th As 'Sox Snap Streak

BALTIMORE, July 19 (UPI) — Billy Pierce, ace Chicago left-hander, hurled the White Sox out of their 11-game losing streak by stopping the Baltimore Orioles 3-2 tonight on six hits, for his 14th triumph of the season.

It will be interesting to note the personnel who will man the Pocono Mountain League's All-Star team when the selection committee makes its decision known.

We don't envy the Strouds

Frank Radler, Lake Harmony's Clint Getz, Saylorsburg's Gib Bachman, Tannersville's Jim Werkheiser and Kunkletown's Clarence Smith, members of the nominating unit.

Cassady Inked By Detroit Lions

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 19 (UPI) — The Detroit Lions of the National Professional Football League today signed All-American Howard Hopalong Cassady, Ohio State halfback and male athlete of the year.

Terms were not disclosed, but it was reported the pact called for $25,000 over a two-year period.

All-American

Cassady played four years at Ohio State and was an All-American selection in his junior and senior seasons.

Cassady has just returned from Japan where he toured with the Ohio State baseball team.

Shortly before she gave up, Wilfred Westley, 40-year-old Briton, went into the water off Cape Griz Nez, France, but quit after 3 hours, 11 minutes.

Third Attempt

It was the third channel swimming effort this week. Jacques Amyott, 31-year-old Canadian, made a successful France-to-England crossing Tuesday.

Intense cold and rough seas defeated the 22-year-old typist. She was in the water more than 13 hours.

The Senators were forced to bat-back after Cleveland got four quick runs off Hal Griggs in the first two innings. They tied the score against Mike Garcia in the eighth inning when Clint Courney tripped to score Pedro Ramos, running for Roy Sievers.

Morgan Bails Out Byrne As Yanks Down Tigers 7-3

NEW YORK, July 19 (UPI)—Tom Morgan came to the rescue with the bases loaded and two out today to put down a ninth-inning Detroit threat on one pitch to Al Kaline, saving a 7-3 victory for the New York Yankees.

The Yanks, beaten twice by the Tigers yesterday when their 11-game winning streak was snapped, broken open a tie game with four runs in the sixth inning.

Big Blow

The big blow was Hank Bauer's ground-rule double with the bases loaded, scoring two runs.

Bryne appeared on the way to his second complete game of the season until the Tigers kicked up a fusil in the ninth. With two gone, singles by Harvey Kuenn, Jack Phillips and Charley Maxwell loaded the bases.

Other Hits

Simpson also had a double and a single, driving in two more runs as the A's salvaged the finale of a four-game series. Power had a double to go with his homer.
